New Zealand AWARDS

*Celebrating people and business excellence in the New Zealand
sheep and beef sector*

As a sheep and beef farmer, who are the people and organisations you most value? Take the time to let us know who they are so we can celebrate their contribution to the industry!

 There are eight awards calling for nominations:

Alliance Significant Contribution Award

This award recognises an outstanding individual who has led by example and has driven change in the operation, and/or governance of the sheep and beef sector through new ideas and approaches and/or initiatives.

FMG Rural Champion Award

This award recognises an individual or group whose contribution promotes the image of the sector to the wider community OR enhances the wellbeing of farmers and farming communities through their programmes and activities.

AgResearch Emerging Achiever Award

This award recognises individuals who have been in full-time employment in the sheep and beef sector for five years or less and who are demonstrating future leadership potential and/or having a positive impact on the sector. This may be through new ideas, influencing others, improving farm productivity, profitability, sustainability or business diversity.

Rabobank People Development Award

This award recognises a person, business or educational/training organisation who delivers formal or informal training, coaching or mentoring which contributes to the capability building and engagement of staff (workbased learning), trainees or students.

Datamars Livestock Technology Award

This award recognises the development and implementation of a technology which solves an on-farm problem or need. This could include, but not limited to, real time monitoring on farm, software applications, satellite technologies, decision-making tools, GIS and automation.

Silver Fern Farms Market Leader Award

This award recognises a farmer or farming business demonstrating innovative solutions, ideas or products which meet consumer needs either through their processor or direct to a market.

Gallagher Innovative Farming Award

This award recognises farmers and farming operations who are demonstrating outside-of-the-box thinking to develop new technology, tools, products or processes that will benefit the business and that could potentially be scaled up to have wider impact.

Ballance Science & Research Award

This award recognises excellence in science and research activities that are of direct relevance and benefit to the sheep and beef sector. This could include, but not limited to, animal health and welfare, advancements in agronomy, biodiversity enhancement, environmental science, data science, genetics and social science.
